About Petit Four Legs

Started in 2006 by a professional pastry chef, Petit Four Legs offers a line of gourmet canine treats that combines elegant hand-decoration and beautiful custom-designed packaging. All Petit Four Legs treats are made by hand in the company's Seattle commercial kitchen using US-sourced human-grade ingredients. To ensure that all treats meet Petit Four Legs' standards, the company never outsources production to third parties. In addition to Pupcake Mix and Holiday Artisan Truffles, Petit Four Legs also offers petit fours and two additional types of carob truffles. The petit fours are available in peanut butter and carob chip flavors and come in bags of four treats (wholesale $3/bag) or boxes of twelve treats (wholesale $12/box). The Artisan Truffles are packaged in a box of nine carob truffles each containing a little bit of peanut butter cookie crumble and are topped with an intricate doggie-design (wholesale $7/box). Petit Four Legs new Fall Artisan Truffles sport a pumpkin design on top (wholesale $7/box or $45/96 Truffles).

In line with a commitment to producing the best dog treats humanly possible, Petit Four Legs also has a very strong social corporate responsibility commitment. The company donates a portion of profits through monetary and in-kind product donations to local animal shelters and fundraising events. Petit Four Legs is also continually trying to reduce their environmental footprint. The company currently composts 100% of all compostable kitchen and office waste and recycles all shipping material.
